Non-resident aliens (NRAs) in
F, J, M or Q visa status
who were in the US for even 1 day in 2024
must file Form 8843.

It is the law.

Form 8843

Who Does Not Complete the 8843:

1. Individuals who were in the US in H-1B or another visa status (B, VW, H, etc.) do not complete the 8843.
2. Individuals who were classified as Residents for Tax Purposes (RA) in 2024 do not complete the 8843. This is true even if the RA is in F, J, M or Q visa status. (Contact Devon Slough in OIT if you need assistance determining whether you are an NRA or RA.)

Quick Explanation:

Form 8843 is an information statement that is filed with the IRS and demonstrates that you should not be taxed on your worldwide income. (US citizens and Residents for Tax Purposes must be taxed on their worldwide income.)

If required to do so, filing Form 8843 is mandated by Treasury Regulations 301.7701(b)-8(a)(2) and (b)(2).

Form 8843

Long Explanation:

The 8843 is an SPT (substantial presence test) that counts the number of days an individual has been in the US over current and past years.

In very basic terms, the IRS looks at non-US persons as either residents for tax purposes (RA) or non-residents for tax purposes (NRA). Form 8843 determines whether the individual is an RA or NRA. Based on this determination, the individual is taxed appropriately.

For example, an RA usually has FICA (Social Security, Medicare and Unemployment Insurance) withheld from paychecks during summer employment, but an NRA does not.

Some individuals do not need to count days – these individuals are termed “exempt from counting days.” An exempt individual can be someone who is temporarily present in the US under an F, J, M or Q visa.

NOTE: You can not exclude days of presence in 2024 if you were exempt as a teacher, trainee or student for any part of more than 5 calendar years unless you reestablish residency (i.e. you have gone home for more than 365 days in between visas.)
